Tiber Creek Group Adds Former Trump Administration Official, Senior House Appropriations Aide Joe Russo

Washington, DC – Tiber Creek Group, a Washington D.C.-based bipartisan government relations firm, announced today the addition of Joe Russo. Russo brings more than a decade of experience in coalition building, legislative strategy, and government affairs from his prior roles in the White House, Congress, and the private sector. His experience working with industry leaders, advocacy groups, and policymakers uniquely positions him to help clients achieve successful policy outcomes. With a proven track record translating complex issues into actionable consensus in both the executive and legislative branches, his addition to Tiber Creek Group adds immediate value for clients.

“At a time when the political and policy landscape in Washington is shifting rapidly, Joe’s experience in Congress and as a key staff member in the Trump White House will provide significant value to our clients,” said Jonathon Jones, Managing Partner of Tiber Creek Group.

Russo most recently served as Director of Coalitions for the House Appropriations Committee, where he led all external stakeholder engagement and strategy management. As senior staff to two committee chairs with jurisdiction over each government agency and the entire federal discretionary budget, he led efforts to gain broad support for all appropriations bills moving through the U.S. House of Representatives. His expertise will bolster Tiber Creek Group’s growing appropriations practice.

Russo supported the second Trump transition team and served in the first Trump administration as Special Assistant to the President and Deputy Director of the White House Office of Public Liaison. During his time at the White House, Russo was responsible for cultivating support for administration policies through coalition building and communication with private sector stakeholders ranging from Fortune 500 CEOs to small businesses across the country.

Importantly, Russo also has experience working in advocacy in the private sector, serving as senior director of federal government affairs for the Association for Accessible Medicines. Earlier in his career, Russo was Coalitions Director for the House Judiciary Committee and served on the legislative staff for Representative Bob Goodlatte.

Russo is a proud graduate of James Madison University.
